

SHE SEE HEAR ENGAGE Collective

We give and gather because we believe in the power of creativity, the strength of community, and the bright future of South Florida artists. Through curiosity, generosity, and shared purpose, SHE Collective shapes a city where art and artists can thrive.

The SHE Collective at Oolite Arts is a community of female members dedicated to supporting our creative ecosystem by investing in local artists. Rooted in Ellie Scheneideman's vision and Oolite's 40-year legacy as an organization from South Florida, for South Florida, we bring together women from diverse backgrounds to create a space of empowerment, mutual support, and collective impact and enjoyment.

We proudly engage with our community to build a movement that champions local voices and strengthens our cultural present and future.

Oolite Arts Art Collection

In 2020, Oolite Arts launched its first art collection by acquiring works from South Florida-based artists.

This initiative, spearheaded by Oolite's Board Chair Emeritus Kim Kovel and our Board of Directors, is another way to advance our mission. To further the artists' careers, Oolite will, in the future, donate its works to museums across the country and internationally, ensuring that more South Florida artists are represented in major collections.
